Columbia U Stays Closed

Trustees Meet; Unrest Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's board of trustees, meeting in special session on the campus crisis, agreed today to study basic changes in the university structure and to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial gymnasium in nearby Morningside Park.

The board took the action after conferring with a 12-member executive committee of the faculty named Tuesday and charged in a general faculty resolution with restoring order to the strife-torn Ivy League campus.

The action by the trustees, aimed at two key demands of the protesting students who have disrupted academic life for nine days, was coupled with a request that "all students and faculty resume their scholarly activities so that the presence of the police can be ended."

There was no immediate comment from leaders of the protest.

Columbia had called off classes in most of its branches again today after new fighting flared Wednesday between police and protesting students.

At least 11 persons, including five policemen, were injured when about 30 police charged at chanting, hostile crowd attending a rally by the university gate at Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street. One student was arrested.

The clash marked the ninth day of disorders in the emotion-charged protest that has virtually paralyzed the university—a day which the administration had set aside for "reason and reflection" by all concerned.

Newsman Blast Student Attacks On Photographers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University School of Journalism and Ohio news officials deplored Wednesday "three flagrant instances of photographers being abused at Ohio State University as they covered the news" within the last few days.

"All three violations occurred at the hands of people who, while claiming that their rights are being denied, seek to deny the rights of the photographers and the right of the public to know what is happening in tax-supported institutions," said a statement released by Dr. William E. Hall, the statement said, film was taken from the photographers and exposed; in the third, a television station cameraman was ejected from a public building and beaten so badly he required hospital treatment.

Poor Peoples Washington March Gets Underway

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes are starting the Poor People's March on Washington, envisioned by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a means of dramatizing the plight of the poor of all races.

As a final preliminary before departure of a bus caravan to Marks, Miss. today, a marble stone bearing a cross and star is being dedicated here in memory of the slain civil rights leader.

King's widow and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, the man who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, take part in dedication of the stone, to be placed on the second floor balcony of the Lorraine Motel where King was standing when killed by a sniper April 4.

Then Abernathy leads the first contingent of the Poor People's Campaign on a twisting two-mile route through some of Memphis' worst slums to buses chartered for the trip to Marks.

Both Mrs. King and Abernathy addressed a kickoff rally of about 8,000 Wednesday night and pleaded for a large turnout for both the dedication and the trip to Marks, the town termed by King as the nation's worst rural poverty area.

A brief outbreak of violence flared in Marks Wednesday when about 20 Mississippi highway patrolmen used rifle butts to break up a demonstration by Negro high school pupils outside the Quitman County jail.

Deputy Jack Harrison said about 350 students had started a sit-in to protest the arrest of Willie Bolden, an advance organizer for SCLC.

By the time the trouble had subsided, seven of the SCLC organizers were in jail.

The memorial stone, a 4-foot-by-44-inch slab of white marble weighing 250 pounds, is on a pedestal for the ceremony.

Below a star and cross were King's name, birth date, date of death and his title in SCLC. Then was engraved this inscription from the 37th chapter of Genesis:

"They said one to another, behold, here cometh the dreamer."

"Let us slay him. We shall see what becomes of his dream."

King came to Memphis to plan another march in support of striking city sanitation workers when he was killed. He led a previous march which erupted into a flurry of window breaking and looting and had been scheduled a mass meeting the night he was slain.

Abernathy said poor white people from Appalachia, Indians, Mexican-Americans and Puerto Ricans would join Negroes in the campaign.

"We are not against black power at all," he said. "We are not against white power, but we have discovered another power that's more powerful than black power or white power and that is poor people power. . . . The poor people of America will march starting in Memphis, and the government and Congress better watch us because nobody is going to turn us around."

Abernathy and a committee of 100 had spearheaded the Washington march by presenting demands to governmental leaders the first of the week.

Original plans had called for the Memphis group to march the 70 miles to Marks, but the Rev. James Bevel, an SCLC staff member, said the bus trip was substituted because "we wanted the people to spend as much time as possible in Marks, to give them time to investigate conditions there, hold mass meetings, and communicate with the people of Marks."

Abernathy flew here from Washington Wednesday night to address the mass rally and prepare for the march.

Hanoi Rejects Indonesian Talk Plan

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the North Vietnamese Embassy in Vientiane today rejected the proposal to hold preliminary peace talks with the United States aboard an Indonesian cruiser in the Gulf of Tonkin. The United States had accepted the proposal, but North Vietnamese rejection was expected in Washington.

Terming the ship board talks "unacceptable" to the Hanoi government the North Vietnamese spokesman said the proposal by the Indonesian government "does not meet a single one of President Johnson's own conditions for preliminary contacts."

"It shows that the four conditions set by Johnson are merely a pretext for avoiding preliminary contacts," he asserted. "The United States is looking for one pretext after another because it wants to continue the war."

Recalling Johnson's demand for a neutral site for the talks, the spokesman said "Indonesia is not neutral," an indication that Hanoi considers the Jakarta government pro-Western since President Sukarno's ouster.

"Furthermore, contacts held on a ship would exclude representatives of other countries and of the press and would not permit what President Johnson called 'adequate communications'—conditions set by Johnson himself," the spokesman added.

He said Hanoi still insists the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland, both of which the U.S. government has rejected.

In Washington, a number of U.S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Roundtown

CIRCLEVILLE'S globe trotting surgeon, Dr. Robert Smith, is serving his second tour of duty in Vietnam. . . . Conditions are much improved in hospitals. Dr. Smith reports in his first letter home, and accommodations for doctors are much better. . . .

The good doctor left Circleville April 18 and does not expect to return until August 1.

TODAY is a "people watching" day. . . . As the settee on the grounds of the county courthouse gave up an occupant, another was there to fill the post of mediator and to bask in the sunshine of a typical Spring day.

EASY come, easy go, according to Maxine Wilson, deputy county auditor. . . . Maxine found a pearl in the fried clams she was eating recently and placed the gem in her pill box for safe keeping. . . . New Spending Cut Formula Puts Life in Tax Hike Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has prescribed a formula to inject new life into President Johnson's $10 billion tax-hike bill—a spending cut proposal which the administration labeled good medicine.

Breaking a weeks-long deadlock, the committee proposed Wednesday that any tax hike be accompanied by a $4 billion cut in actual spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1 plus a $14 billion slash in spending already authorized or appropriated for future years.

The committee's action removed a big roadblock in the tax proposal's progress through Congress, where it has been since last August.

But Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on a House-Senate conference committee trying to work out a compromise, said the Senate will not pass a tax-spending package that doesn't contain a $6 billion spending cut for next year—a proposal already endorsed by the Senate but opposed by the administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, commenting on the Appropriations Committee's recommendations—including a $4 billion spending cut—said they "met every reasonable demand for expenditure control."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said: "The real logjam has been broken here today. This opens the way for the conferees to go ahead."

Laird predicted an eventual compromise which would include a $5 billion spending cut.

The full House continued its budget-cutting drive, passing a bill to appropriate $5,523 billion for the Agriculture Department, $1.4 billion less than the President requested.

In other economy-related developments:

—The Treasury Department offered a 6 per cent rate—highest since 1920—to borrow new cash and refinance part of the federal debt. The rate will be offered to holders of $8 billion in Treasury securities which mature May 15 if they agree to exchange them for a seven-year note maturing in 1975.

The high interest reflects tightening credit and sharper competition among borrowers for available money.

The department also will offer the same rate in seeking to borrow $3 billion in new cash through a 15-month security. —The Cabinet Committee on Price Stability said efforts to control inflation are endangered by spiraling wage hikes in the construction industry, where the average settlement has amounted to an eight per cent increase. Administration officials also voiced disappointment in the over-all pattern of union wage pacts in the first three months, when pay increases averaged six per cent.

Israel Defies U.N., Stages Celebration Inside Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel defied its Arab neighbors and a U.N. Security Council resolution today by parading its military might through the Arab sector of Jerusalem to celebrate 20 years of nationhood.

Demonstrations of protest were scheduled for several Arab capitals and a proposal to condemn Israel for holding the parade was expected in the Security Council. Israel rejected a unanimous council resolution saying the parade should be canceled because it would hurt chances for peace in the Middle East.

Braving sweltering heat, thousands of joyous Israelis and foreign visitors lined every foot of the five-mile parade route through both Arab and Jewish sections of the once-divided city which Israel united in the war last June.

Arab residents of Jerusalem kept their homes and shops shuttered.

Soldiers and police stood guard all along the route, keeping a watchful lookout for trouble from clandestine Arab groups that ordered a boycott of the parade. Visitors were checked at roadblocks on all roads leading into the city.

Along with an impressive show of their own weaponry the Israelis paraded Soviet tanks, self-propelled artillery, surface-to-air missiles, and other equipment captured from the Arabs in the six-day war last June.

Male and female soldiers marched past the reviewing stand and saluted Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, President Zalman Shazar and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.

It all commemorated the 20 turbulent years since bushy-haired David Ben-Gurion, as head of the provisional government, stood up in Tel Aviv's Museum of Modern Art and proclaimed Israel an independent state.

Over the years the determined Israelis turned a desert wasteland into fertile agricultural fields, tapped water from hidden springs and mountain rivers and built up the economy to give themselves the highest standard of living in the Middle East.

Outside of failing to secure a permanent peace for their land, the Israelis' biggest disappointment has been the sparse immigration of Western Jews, particularly Americans. Even the volunteers who came during the June war are streaming out now, unused to the frontier hardship, low wages and stern discipline.

Pearson Says U.S. Losing Its Prestige

OTTAWA (AP) — Former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson says U.S. involvement in Vietnam has divided the world into pro- and anti-American camps, and "on this particular issue there are not too many pro-Americans in the world."

The retiring statesman made the comment in an interview with the Canadian Press.

As a result, Pearson said, the United States, "the most powerful country in the world is now having its moral power and prestige weakened by the way it has become bogged down, in fighting, indecisively, a small Asian country."

"I don't know anything like this in history," he said, "where you have a state, with greater material power than any other ever possessed, but which is unable to impose its will on 19 million Indochinese."

"Of course it could do so if it decided completely to destroy the country. But being Americans, and the world being what it is, they're not willing to use their full power in this war."

As a result of the Vietnam issue, he said, the United States has failed to win a military decision there and has lost international prestige.

McClellan Raps High Court, Pushes Crime Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, pushing for Senate passage of a crime control bill that would supersede several controversial Supreme Court decisions, has accused the high court of coddling criminals.

The Arkansas Democrat said a majority of the court has taken it on itself to amend the Constitution and:

"We have to decide if we have the courage to do something about these self-confessed murderers and rapists that the Supreme Court is disposed to turn loose."

McClellan, floor manager for the omnibus bill Wednesday, laid heavy emphasis on the section that would make confessions admissible as evidence in criminal trials if voluntarily given.

He called this a vital part of the legislation, but opponents hope to muster the votes to

1,000 Enemy Troops Slain In Offensive

Fight Heaviest In 2 Months Around Hue

SAIGON (AP) — The heaviest sustained fighting in two months raged through the fourth day today in the northeast corner of South Vietnam. Allied forces reported more than 1,000 enemy troops killed in the battles that continued outside Hue and Dong Ha.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 81 of their men killed and 395 wounded in the battling since Monday, the biggest eruption since the Viet Cong's Tet offensive in February.

U.S. commanders in the northern sector also reported that the 15,000-man allied force sweeping the A Shau Valley southwest of Hue had cut one of the enemy's main supply and infiltration routes from North Vietnam. But "there are still a lot of nooks and crannies we have not looked into," said Marine Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, commander of U.S. forces in the northern provinces.

In the fighting outside Hue, the enemy dead included a North Vietnamese battalion commander, a battalion executive officer and three company commanders. U.S. paratroopers also reported the surrender of 97 North Vietnamese troops, including five women nurses.

It was believed to be the war's biggest bag of prisoners. The captives said their battalion was to become the occupation force for Hue after another enemy offensive they said was planned. The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong captured most of Hue in February and held it for weeks.

Hard fighting and artillery duels continued again today on both sides of Dong Ha, headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The biggest battle was going on two miles northeast of Dong Ha, where the Marines have been locked in combat with North Vietnamese troops since Tuesday.

North Vietnamese gunners opened up with artillery barrages on a unit of the 4th Marine Regiment sweeping the area. Later the enemy tried an unsuccessful counter-attack on a village captured by the Marines two days ago.

Actress Helen Hayes Says She'll Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — Helen Hayes, 67 and an actress since she was 5, has announced she will retire from the stage in December.

She said Wednesday she will leave for her home in Mexico at the end of her tour with the APA-Phoenix Repertory Company.

McClellan, floor manager for the omnibus bill Wednesday, laid heavy emphasis on the section that would make confessions admissible as evidence in criminal trials if voluntarily given.

He called this a vital part of the legislation, but opponents hope to muster the votes to strike it from the bill. In a 284-page Senate Judiciary Committee report on the bill, 7 of the 16 members joined in a statement protesting efforts to undo Supreme Court restrictions on the use of confessions or other self-incriminating statements.

They challenged the constitutionality of this part of the bill, saying "simplistic answers do us no service in the struggle to find solutions for the complicated problems we face in the war against crime."

McClellan, floor manager for the bill, argued the Supreme Court has imperiled public safety while providing greatly increased protection for criminals.

Businessmen Think Nixon Best Choice for President

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top businessmen overwhelmingly favor Richard M. Nixon for president—and a number bitterly oppose Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, according to a copyright Washington Post survey.

The newspaper said Nixon was favored by 91 of 160 leading executives surveyed. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was second with 38 votes and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey third with 24.

Kennedy was the choice of 3 executives, California Gov. Ronald Reagan of 2 and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and third party candidate George C. Wallace, 1 each.

The Post said a number of executives' comments showed "an edge of bitterness toward Kennedy"—saying the Democratic candidate was their last choice or they thought him least qualified.

Nearly three-fourths of the executives identified themselves as Republicans, the newspaper said. It said questionnaires were sent to 298 executives, including the entire membership of the prestigious Business Council, which has worked closely with President Johnson, and 180 responded.

Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who fared best in the poll, told a U.S. Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday that some businessmen have even "out-liberalized Hubert Humphrey" and said their help is needed to solve slum problems.

In other political developments:

—Republican candidate Rockefeller takes a swing through Iowa today after calling his Massachusetts primary victory a surprise to him and urging de-Americanization of the Vietnam war.

—Kennedy, pressing his campaign in Indiana's May 7 presidential primary, said the administration should be more flexible on a site for tentative Vietnam peace talks. "We need not worry about whether we will lose face by agreeing to a site we have not suggested," he said in Lafayette.

—McCarthy, whose Democratic presidential campaign began as a protest to Vietnam policy, said in Louisville the issue should not be lost sight of. "This whole question hasn't been put to the people since New Hampshire," he said. "It ought to be again."

—California Gov. Ronald Reagan said in a position paper civil rights must be attained by "time, skill and resourcefulness and capital from all sectors," not "by shrill exaggerations or false promises and it will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club."

—At least two Democratic meetings in Missouri for selecting county convention delegates were broken up by strongarm methods witnesses said were reminiscent of the Boss Tom Pendergast era "mob primaries." One McCarthy supporter was knocked down and another hit in the nose for protesting delegate selection methods.

Sagging Bed Makes Sagging Marriage

DEAR ABBY: All went fine with my marriage, until my loving spouse got so heavy from Manhattans, beer, pizza, candy, etc., that the bed sagged on her side. Altho the sagging caused me to roll down near her, I must confess this nearness created no romantic interest whatsoever. My partner angrily declared me "impotent," and took to her own bed in another room.

I was determined to prove to myself that I was not impotent. The details are only incidental, but let us just say that it didn't take me very long to prove it. My question: Should I share this happy discovery with my wife?

SWINGER

DEAR SWINGER: Go ahead. She'll never believe you.

DEAR ABBY: I am an average 19-year-old college student (male) living on campus in a college town. My home is 200 miles away. My mother has an old friend living near campus, so she wrote and asked this friend of hers to look me up. What for, I'll never know because I'm not lonesome and this woman is a 65-year-old widow, and we don't have one thing in common.

Well, this old lady invited me to her house for Sunday supper, so I went. She was very nice to me. Too nice. There were just the two of us there and she made me feel very uncomfortable. She kept wanting to hug me and touch me, and she made all sorts of remarks about how she "had a crush" on me.

Holmes Is Back

LONDON (AP) — Sherlock Holmes is discarding his meerschaum pipe and deerstalker hat for cigarettes and a straw hat in a new television series. William Sterling, who will produce the series for the British Broadcasting Corp., says he will bring out all the "brutal say-gery" of the stories about fiction's most famous detective.

A FEW DAYS LATER SHE CALLED ME UP AND INVITED ME OVER FOR DINNER AGAIN. I told her I had to study. (I did.) Then she sent me a silly "I could go for you" card with a $10 bill inside. Today I got a box of cookies with a note, "Honey, when am I going to see you again?"

Abby, she keeps calling me, and I tell my roommate to tell her I'm at the library. I want to see this old lady again like I want to go to Vietnam. I hate to insult her, BUT I sure don't want to see her again. How should I handle this?

SOPHOMORE

DEAR SOPHOMORE: First, return her money with a "thank-you" note, and thank her for the cookies, but ask her not to send any more. Then continue to be "out" when she calls. In time she will be sufficiently discouraged to forget you.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago my mother passed away. She and my father had been married nearly 50 years, and seemingly had a good life together.

To me, it seemed disrespectful to my mother's memory, but ONE WEEK after my mother's burial, my father (a minister) began seeing other women. Less than three months later he remarried. This marriage lasted four months; they got a quick divorce, and within 30 days my father remarried again!

Now my father insists that his grandchildren call his new wife "Grandma." My children all remember their real grandmother and it doesn't seem natural to them. (Nor to me.) Should I insist they call this woman "Grandma" just because their grandfather demands it? Or am I within my rights to tell them they don't have to? So far they call her "Mrs. —."

DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Tell the children to call the lady whatever comes naturally.

Crime Research Lags

Preservation of law and order has become one of the most important goals in these United States, but the amount of research conducted on ways of bringing it about is surprisingly small.

Most local police agencies engage in no research at all, except as revealed to them through their experience. Even big city police departments spend a very small part of their budget on answering the questions posed by crime or evaluating the results of enforcement procedure.

Why, for example, have crimes of violence grown rapidly in recent years? What deterrent effect, if any, do long prison sentences have? What type of person is most likely to become involved in a particular crime?

What is wrong with the habitual offender and how can he be reached for rehabilitation? And one of the more important questions of the day: what effect have recent court rulings had on police, criminals and court sentencing procedures?

Who knows? No authoritative study has yet brought the answers to these questions to the surface.

Joseph D. Lohman, dean of the School of Criminology at the University of California, Berkeley, and one of the nation's noted law enforcement officials, made it clear in a recent interview that he is convinced no real progress is the apprehension and treatment of criminals can be made until the courts, correctional institutions and police agencies begin meaningful research into the problems of crime.

The former sheriff of Cook County, Ill., is probably right. "Alley knowledge," the experience gained by the cop on the beat, undoubtedly is helpful in gaining and understanding of the criminal mind and preparing the policeman for the actions of his adversary.

But this is not a substitute for scientific research which would go deep beneath the surface of the world of crime to ascertain just what motivates the criminal and how he can be deterred, captured and rehabilitated.

The Third F111

In less than a month of combat testing, the United States has lost three of its new $6-million F111 fighter bombers, and presumably four of the six men flying them.

The destruction of the one recovered plane has been officially traced to a mechanic's error in leaving a tube of sealant loose where it could jam the controls. But now that three have gone down in fairly quick succession, it is hard to avoid a suspicion that failures in the craft itself are cropping up.

The U.S. command has implied the possibility by casting doubt on North Vietnam's claims that it shot down the two missing bombers. Unanticipated flaws — "bugs" — are almost routine in new planes.

They can be especially likely in craft with such complex features as the F111's highly sophisticated terrain-following radar.

Such possibilities call for withdrawal of the plane from Southeast Asia for exhaustive rechecking in the United States.

According to Boyle

By MORT ROSENBLUM (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — The garment industry classifies the clothing I buy in department stores as ready-to-wear, but I take issue with that designation. By the time I have removed all the price tickets, tags, labels, washing instruction cards, strings, fiber content affidavits and pins from my purchases, I feel I've done about as much work as the seamstress who made them.

It's all very interesting reading matter, though, and it does make for sparkling conversation, should anybody compliment me on a dress.

"This old thing?" I say nonchalantly. "It's just a little wrinkle-resistant blend of 87 per cent viscose rayon, 5 per cent imported silk and 8 per cent acetate tricot, bonded to 100 per cent acrylic to give finer fit, appearance and comfort."

If my friend has been doing her homework she'll take it from there. "What's the resilient shrinkage?" she'll inquire thoughtfully.

"Oh, this luxury fabric, exclusive of ornamentation, may be washed with reasonable care," I reply. "Ironing is not necessary, but if desired, I use a warm (not hot) iron."

In addition to providing dramatic discourses at social gatherings, the material appended to my wardrobe gives me more for my money. By the time I have a blouse in a true ready-to-wear condition I have salvaged enough pins to pierce every voodoo doll in Africa. As a matter of fact, I haven't had to buy a straight pin since I took sewing in the sixth grade.

Ordinarily I manage to get rid of all this extraneous matter before the apparel goes out of style, but on one recent occasion there was a slight slipup.

I had bought a new spring coat, but the weather was still too cold to wear it so I hung it in the closet without preparing it for action. It suddenly turned warm enough for my coat to make its debut so I hastily removed the price tag and off I went in my new finery.

I was on the bus when the lady sitting next to me hesitantly asked if I realized there was a label on my coat sleeve. It was a lovely label, all right, done in fine satin and with a beautifully woven announcement that the coat was fabricated 100 per cent of a well known brand of wool. Proud as I was of that fact, I didn't think I should be flaunting it on my sleeve.

However, this decoration was sewed in four corners and neither I nor my new-found friend was carrying a pair of scissors. She did, fortunately, have a metal nailfile and by gently sawing away at the threads was able to divest my coat of its unwanted ornament.

AT A MASQUERADE party, one guest dressed as the devil noticed one old boy that had had a few too many and thought to give him a scare. He pounced upon him and hissed, "You're the man I've been looking for." Instead of being frightened, the tipsy one grinned happily and said, "Well, here I am." The "devil," disappointed, asked, "Why aren't you frightened by my costume?" "Why should I be?" was the answer. "I married your sister."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How much blood is necessary to sustain life in a healthy person? What are some of the lesser important contents of the blood?

It is estimated that an adult has about one quart of blood for every thirty pounds of body weight. A normal healthy man weighing one hundred and fifty pounds would have about five quarts of blood. A quart is 1,000 cc. A good illustration of body needs for replenishing blood is the fact that a transfusion of 500 cc or a pint of blood is the usual amount given.

The composition of blood represents a complex organization that is a thousand times more remarkable than sending a man to the moon and returning him intact. Physicians who have daily need to study and understand blood contents never take for granted the delicacy of the balances of all the elements in the blood.

There is no one single element that is more important than the other. Each serves its own purpose. Occasionally when one factor is missing, there may be some compensating use of another.

The red blood cells contain hemoglobin that transports oxygen and carbon dioxide from one part of the body to the other. The white blood cells act as the first line of defense against invading bacteria.

There are dozens of protective antibodies and hormones which control the function of many of the organs of the body. The blood contains protein, phosphorus, iron, calcium, sodium, and other minerals.

There is perhaps no more beautifully delicate system than that of the blood when it comes in contact with the air. Just as remarkable is the subtlety of the mechanism that keeps blood circulating as a fluid when it is in the body. The blood and its contents truly are beyond belief.

What causes a chill during a severe illness?

A true chill is not similar to the temporary chilly sensations that occur after exposure to wet or cold weather. A real shaking chill is the body's cry that announces some important disturbance within it.

When bacteria invade the blood stream from any infected area in the body, a shaking chill may follow. To the physician, such a chill is most important. In many instances, an immediate sample of the blood is drawn in an effort to find the nature of the germ responsible for the chill.

Severe chills may occasionally accompany pneumonia or a complication of rheumatic or other heart conditions. Severe infections of the arms or legs, with red streaks, may be the causes of the chill.

Some diseases, especially malaria, produce chills at regular intervals due to the invasion of the blood by parasites. The control of a chill is simple with warm blankets and heating pads. It is important to learn the real reason for this complication of an infection.

Unnecessary fear of dental pain may cause dental neglect and loss of teeth.

The World Today

By WALTER R. MEARS (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Selective Service System has withstood a proposed major overhaul, but now a team of senators favors a change to permit men challenging their draft status representation by an attorney.

Nine senators, led by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., are sponsoring a bill that would guarantee potential draftees the right to be represented by counsel in any proceeding before a Selective Service board.

Legal representation currently is ruled out. One argument for this: The draft system contends it would not be fair to the poor, who couldn't afford attorneys.

Long's Judiciary subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure sees—in the Office of Economic Opportunity—a way around that objection.

Earl Johnson, who heads the poverty agency's division of neighborhood legal services, is among witnesses slated to appear at a May 16 hearing on the draft-counsel measure.

Johnson said in an interview his agency would attempt to provide counsel to youths facing the draft who could not afford it otherwise, should the bill be enacted.

But Johnson said he has no idea what the possible caseload might be if the bill were enacted. "We don't have unlimited resources," he said. "If the load became too great we wouldn't be able to handle them all."

Publicly, Selective Service is taking no formal position on the matter. But privately, officials there said it could create chaos for the draft boards.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service director, is to testify on the measure and the bill's advocates expect him to oppose it.

A form letter currently is sent to lawyers or draftees who ask why they can't have counsel before draft boards. The letter notes that draft board members are generally without legal training.

"Our efforts through the years," it continues, "have been aimed at keeping the procedures so simple that it would not be necessary to have legal counsel at any hearing before the local board."

"We have always been of the opinion that it would be unfair to the many who cannot afford to hire attorneys if the sons of other families were permitted to have their cases presented by legal counsel."

However, the form letter adds, a government appeals agent is attached to each draft board, assigned to be "equally diligent" in protecting the rights of the government and the potential draftee. Sponsors of the bill question whether this kind of dual service is really possible.

Furthermore, Sen. Long voices belief the Supreme Court would hold denial of counsel unconstitutional.

The Avoided Issue

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The really good things in the career of Senator Bobby Kennedy will hardly be mentioned by Bobby Kennedy, candidate for President of the United States.

Bobby supported the Vietnam War when it was his brother's war. But that's all changed now, for after 1963 the war had to be prosecuted by Lyndon Johnson, whom Bobby would rather not mention. Bobby once wrote a book, "The Enemy Within," which told the story of racketeer infestation of labor unions. It was a good book, reinforced as it was by the evidence brought out by Bobby when he was busy serving as counsel for the McClellan Committee in the Senate.

Curiously for the Kennedy who would now like to line up those union votes in South Bend, Gary, Anderson and other industrial towns in Indiana, the National Labor Relations Board once ruled an employer guilty of unfair labor practice because he distributed copies of the Kennedy book on union racketeering to the workers in his shop. This transcendent infringement by the NLRB of the First Amendment to the Constitution occurred when the case of the Teamsters Union versus a Sinclair Company plant in Holyoke, Massachusetts, was up for administrative adjudication.

The quarrel involved the use of authorization cards, with the union claiming that a majority of the Sinclair employees had signed cards calling for collective bargaining. The company doubted the authenticity of the union's claims, and in a new representative election the union lost by a close vote. It was at this point that the NLRB took notice of the union's claim of unfair labor practice and ordered bargaining to begin on the basis of the discredited authorization cards. The employer's distribution of the Kennedy book during the union election was one of the more important instances in the count of unfair labor practice as set forth in the NLRB order.

Of course, the NLRB's attempt to stop the distribution of a book didn't stand up. But, curiously, the order for the company to bargain the basis of the old cards, which a majority of the union members had repudiated, still remained in effect.

If Bobby Kennedy were standing by his own past, he would be making something of his career as the man who exposed labor skulduggery and was victimized, temporarily at least, by the NLRB's contempt for the free speech guarantee of the First Amendment. But it is too much to expect Presidential candidates — and this goes for McCarthy, Humphrey, Rockefeller and possibly, even Nixon and Reagan in addition to Bobby Kennedy — to say nasty things about the NLRB in an election year.

In spite of the campaign black-out of discussion of our current labor law lopsidedness, the Ervin Senate Subcommittee continues its ill-publicized hearings on the NLRB. Sylvester Petro, who teaches labor law at New York University, recently appeared before the Ervin group with a long recital of instances in which the NLRB majority had compeled employers to bargain collectively in spite of employee rejection of the union in secret ballot elections. As the author of definitive studies of the Kingsport and Kohler strikes, Petro knows how to marshal evidence. Petro impressed Senator Sam Ervin, head of the subcommittee, but that is not the same thing as impressing a Congressional majority in an election year.

After November of 1968 it could be another matter. A Labor Law Study Committee, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, has been busy for two years with a detailed analysis of NLRB decisions. It is easy to dismiss anything started by business trade associations as special pleading. But the labor lawyers who were commissioned to conduct the analysis of NLRB behavior are Guy Farmer, a former NLRB chairman, Gerald Reilly, a former NLRB member and a one-time solicitor of the Department of Labor, and Theodore Iserman, a New York attorney. These men are not stooges or hacks for anybody. For the long term, their conclusions will be listened to by Congress when it comes to giving better balance to our labor laws, even though they will hardly figure prominently in the Presidential campaign.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Spurred by renewed consumer demand, riding the crest of an inflationary boom, free of big strikes and, for the moment, free of the restraints of higher taxes, America's corporations are reporting huge profits.

Hundreds of companies are reporting earnings considerably higher than last year's rather depressed figures, and some of the nation's very largest firms report first-quarter earnings exceeding any other year in history.

The records are being achieved despite higher costs for raw materials and labor, and despite some of the highest borrowing costs of this century.

The question now being asked by corporate finance officers and stockholders is: "Can we keep it up?" In some cases the answer seems to be no. Tighter money, labor problems and higher taxes are expected to accompany a slowdown later this year.

In the meantime, the announcements are amazingly repetitious. Mimeographed press releases are filled with phrases such as higher than last year, highest first quarter, highest for any quarter in the company's history.

The profits are the result not just of higher sales but also because of a return to higher profit margins. In 1965, for example, the percentage of profits to sales was more than 5.5 per cent. It dropped to less than 5 last year but now seems likely to average well over 5 per cent again.

The big automotive companies, hurt a year ago because of safety problems and consumer inertia, are among the chief contributors to the suddenly bright corporate profit picture.

General Motors reported a 17 per cent jump in January-February-March profits to $456.7 million. Chrysler's net income rose 280 per cent to $69.3 million. And Ford scored an 83 per cent advance to a record first-quarter profit of $120.6 million. Steels, consumer products, textiles, office equipment, oils, food stores and the so-called conglomerates, which make and sell a spectrum of products, were among the big gainers.

Boeing, one of the largest aerospace companies, reported three-month profits of $22.8 million, second highest in its history, although some other aircraft companies saw profits drop. The paper industry reported earnings declines, as did the railroads.

Profit increases by Bethlehem and Republic Steel exceeded 30 per cent, and Inland Steel's increase was a whopping 85 per cent. Among food companies, Safeway Stores had a 50 per cent gain and Winn-Dixie nearly 12 per cent.

International Business Machines, whose shareholders this week voted approval of a 100 per cent stock dividend, had good reason to feel confident in doing so. The huge computer maker continued to build record upon record, boosting first-quarter net income to $187.4 million from $137.1 million a year ago.

Speaking about industry in general, Business Week magazine commented:

"In fact, when all the figures are tallied up, the gain over a year ago could be close to 15 per cent—meaning roughly a $90-billion annual rate before taxes and a $53-billion rate after taxes."

One troubling aspect of the profits surge is that it is partially a product of inflationary demands for goods and may be difficult to sustain.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

By LEWIS M. SIMONS
Associated Press Writer
DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Although the U.S. Marine Corps is primarily an amphibious force, Marines are fully trained and prepared for conventional ground warfare, their commander in South Vietnam says.

"We fight out of the same manual as the Army in land warfare," Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman said in an interview. "It is in the amphibious operation where we differ. That is our primary mission."

Cushman maintained his troops are well trained for fighting as varied as the street battles of Hue to the long term holding actions of Khe Sanh.

"At Khe Sanh we started out with a small force and used the area as a base for mobile operations," Cushman said. "Later, when the pressure built, there was no opportunity for a Maginot-Line type of defense to be built."

Cushman was answering recent criticism of the Marine position at Khe Sanh.

"It is our basic doctrine that when you stop moving, you dig in. And the longer you stay put, the deeper you dig," Cushman said.

He also said that based on his visits to Khe Sanh, he issued three specific orders to the commander of the 5,000 Marines at the combat base: "Dig faster, deeper and better."

That the Marines were in fact well dug in at Khe Sanh was borne out by the casualty figures for the 77-day siege of the combat base near the Laos border, he said.

The siege under the big guns of North Vietnam's Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap began Jan. 2 and lasted until the base was relieved by a combined Marine and Army force in Operation Pegasus. During that time, according to Marine Corps figures, 204 Marines were killed and 845 were wounded seriously enough to be evacuated and another 77 received minor wounds.

"That averages out to less than three men killed a day," Cushman said. "Why, there are more Marines killed every day just sweeping the paddy fields around Da Nang searching for guerrillas."

Other Marine Corps figures claimed a confirmed kill of 1,561 North Vietnamese troops around the Khe Sanh combat base.

As to claims that the Marines were ill-prepared for street fighting such as they encountered in the old imperial capital of Hue, Cushman said: "The facts state otherwise."

"It just so happens that I was in charge of training troops for Vietnam duty while I was at Camp Pendleton (California). All Marines go through simulated combat cities and were trained in city fighting."

The general said the Marines were so effective in the fight for the Hue Citadel—the former seat of Vietnamese emperors—that they once cleared North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops out of a hospital without injuring any of the patients in the building.

Marine Corps figures state that 141 Marines were killed in Hue street fighting from Feb. 3 to March 3. In addition, 853 Marines were evacuated for serious wounds and 222 were treated for minor wounds.

The figures claim the Marines killed 1,927 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers.

Cushman was asked about an article by a British newsman who wrote, prior to the lifting of the Khe Sanh siege, that at the Marine base at Camp Carroll, 12 miles from the demilitarized zone, an officer was reported to have said Marines slept above ground rather than in bunkers because sleeping below ground "is bad for morale."

"That is just not true," Cushman said.

"I've been to Camp Carroll. They have bunkers, they have fighting holes and they also have tents which are a lot more comfortable to sleep in."

"There is always a balance you have to make when you are under occasional artillery fire. You can sleep in bunkers all the time or you can sleep in tents, and get better rest, and go to the bunkers when you come under attack."

"This would not be the case," he said, "when troops are under almost constant attack as the Marines were at Khe Sanh."

Marine Corps figures claimed that during the last two weeks of February, "the heaviest they ever had there" according to a spokesman, Camp Carroll was struck by fewer than 300 rounds. Since that time, according to the figures, the weekly shelling of Camp Carroll has dropped to "well under a 100 rounds a week."

The shelling of Khe Sanh hit a high of more than 1,300 rounds a day.

Observers have stated that the Marines are misplaced in the northernmost I Corps tactical zone; that they would be better suited to making amphibious assaults in the river-laced Mekong Delta.

Cushman said this was a misconception.

"That is not an amphibious operation. It is nothing but a great big swamp. It is riverine warfare," he said.

The U.S. Command trained troops of the Army's 9th Infantry Division and specialized naval teams to form the Mobile Riverine Force in the Delta.

Bridge Disaster Probers Visit

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — Federal engineers and members of the board of inquiry probing the Silver Bridge disaster will visit the bridge reassembly site here today prior to a May 7 public hearing in Charleston.

Pieces of the bridge, which collapsed in December, killing 46 persons, are being reassembled on a 20-acre site on the Ohio River banks south of here. Federal investigators have already found a cracked "eyebrow" which might have caused the collapse. But the exact cause has not yet been pinpointed.

Double Ring Ceremony Read in Church of God

MRS. THOMAS C. HART

The Rev. T. A. Perkins read the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Darlene Varnell and Thomas C. Hart, 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 17, in the Circleville Church of God, Nicholas Drive.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond J. Varnell of Lancaster. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hart of Amanda.

The church was decorated with a pair of matching baskets of white gladioli and mums, two brass candelabra, and brass pew candles decorated with white satin bows and trailing Stephanotis.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Kirkwood, organist, and Miss Hazel Reed, vocalist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride selected for her wedding a floor length traditional gown of white Chantilly lace. The gown was designed with basque bodice, full length sleeves, scooped neckline accented with sequins and seed pearls, and a bouffant ruffled skirt flowing into a peacock train. Her veil was a Spanish mantilla of imported illusion edged in matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet with white satin streamers of white carnations and roses, centered with two white orchids.

Mrs. Glenda Combs, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a long sleeved A-line, floor length velvet gown of royal blue trimmed in matching satin and white lace edged the sleeves. She carried a bouquet of orange carnations and blue corn flowers with streamers of orange velvet ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Martha Johnson, sister of the groom and Glenna Williams. They wore matching gowns of royal blue velvet with satin trim and carried bouquets of orange carnations and blue corn flowers with blue velvet ribbons.

Fred E. Ray served as best man. Ushers were Don Hart, brother of the groom and Conley Combs.

Mrs. Varnell chose for her daughter's wedding a knit pink dress and coat ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of blue and white carnations. Mrs. Hart chose a gold knit suit with brown accessories and a corsage of orange and white carnations.

A reception at the 4-H and Grange building followed the ceremony. A four tiered wedding cake was trimmed with white roses and topped with the traditional bride and groom. A ring of ivy and puffs of orange carnations and blue corn flowers surrounded the cake. The bridesmaids' and matron of honor's bouquets decorated the edges of the table.

Hostesses were Miss Naomi Hutchison, Mrs. Nellie Miller, Mrs. Betty Combs, Mrs. Lucy Helton and Bonnie Helton. Mrs. Rose Henson attended the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Lee Academy of Cleveland, Tenn., and is presently employed at the General Electric Lamp Plant.

Mr. Hart is a graduate of Amanda Clearcreek High School and is presently employed at the local DuPont Plant.

Auxiliary Unit Plans Tour Of Poppy Shop

In Flanders Fields the poppies grow — so goes the well known poem. In Ohio it is the Ohio Soldier's and Sailor's Home in Sandusky, where the little flower that does so much, the Memorial Poppy of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, becomes a reality.

Plans are complete for Sunday for the annual Poppy Shop Open House. Registration begins 9 a.m. in the administration building. There will be a tour of the poppy workshop and the grounds until 12:30. Refreshments will be served at 1 p.m. in the main mess hall.

An invitation is extended to all, especially American Legion and Auxiliary members to attend this open house and meet the men who make the poppies distributed in Ohio, usually close to Memorial Day. This is a way for us to express our thanks to the men of the Sandusky Home for the fine job they are doing.

A short program will be held in the afternoon and the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Ohio President, Mrs. James E. Warner will be the main speaker.

Mrs. Robert Stephens, Poppy Day chairman for the local Auxiliary Unit, is planning to attend the open house to observe how the American Legion Auxiliary Poppy, the only one that can claim it is entirely made by the hands of disabled veterans is made.

Mrs. Stephens would like to remind Circleville city school children who plan to enter the Auxiliary Poppy Poster Contest that the posters must be turned in to their principal Friday. Local prizes are to be given in all three classes.

OSU Committee To Probe Protest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University officials said Wednesday that a five-member committee will be appointed by the end of the week to investigate last Friday's seizure of the Administration building.

The university's board of trustees ordered the investigation Tuesday night at a special meeting. The Friday incident involved about 75 students, mostly Negroes.

Officials also said attempts are under way to identify students who took part in the seizure of the building. The trustees said that after an investigation and hearings for students, disciplinary action should be taken if necessary.

RAPS KENNEDY'S PLEDGE—Presidential candidate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, appearing on a television interview in Washington, says Sen. Robert Kennedy's "no more Vietnams" pledge amounted to an invitation to Communist forces to move into new areas "willy-nilly." Kennedy also is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Akron, Canton Voters Face Income Tax Boost, Renewal

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Voters in two of Ohio's eight largest cities—Akron and its neighbor, Canton—will be asked in next Tuesday's primary election to approve city income tax proposals.

In both places the tax proposals must be approved to keep city government on sound financial footing, officials say. And in both places pre-balloting reaction of the voters appears cool.

In Akron a 1 per cent city income tax adopted at a special election in August of 1962 for a period of six years ending next Jan. 1 is up for renewal. And renewal is asked on a continuing basis rather than for a six-year term.

In Canton it is proposed to increase a 1 per cent city income tax adopted in 1955 to 1 1/2 per cent so it would yield about $6 million a year instead of the present $4 million. The added money would be used to boost pay for police, firemen and other city employees, for operating revenue, and for a police-firemen pension fund debt.

The present Canton city budget has gone into the red, and the pension fund debt under state changes in the plan is an estimated $10.2 million, Canton officials say.

Renewal of the Akron tax is more crucial to that city than an increase in the present rate is to Canton. Akron gets about $11 million a year from the income tax which accounts for 41 per cent of the city's general fund revenue.

The tax has been a primary source for capital improvements

Ohio Primary Turnout Expected Large

By REED SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Heavy absentee ballot marking statewide bolsters Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's prediction of a record turnout for Ohio's primary election next Tuesday.

Brown, who forecast a record vote of 1.875 million, said county election boards generally report demand for absentee ballots higher than usual, a sure sign of voter interest. The current primary election record of 1.770 million was set May 5, 1964.

The deadline falls at 4 p.m. Thursday for ballot marking by voters who intend to be more than 10 miles from their usual polling place or cannot vote on election day for religious reasons.

But election boards can accept and count marked ballots received by mail until noon Friday and those from members of the Armed Services received by noon of Election Day.

Statewide interest focuses in the attempt by John J. Gilligan, 47, Cincinnati councilman, to deny U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, 72, the Democratic nomination for a third term. Gilligan has the support of Democratic Party state headquarters and the Ohio AFL-CIO.

The winner is expected to face Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, who has only nominal opposition for the Republican nomination from William L. White, Mount Vernon businessman, and Albert E. Payne, Springfield industrialist.

Nominations also will be made statewide for chief justice and two judges of the seven-member Supreme Court. None of the Supreme Court candidates has opposition in the primary.

Three proposals to change the state constitution also will go before the voters.

Issue One would allow the legislature to dispose of school and ministerial lands set aside by Congress in 1785 and 1787 if the current Congress approves. Issue Two provides for the filling of Ohio House vacancies by members of the same party as now done in the Senate, and Issue Three calls for reorganization of the Ohio judicial system with a ban on election of judges over age 70.

District and local elections call for nominations in all 24 congressional districts, in all 99 Ohio House districts and in 16 of the 33 state senatorial districts, appellate and common pleas judges, and in each county—two commissioners, clerk of courts, coroner, prosecutor, engineer, recorder, sheriff and treasurer.

Elected in the primaries will be delegates of both major parties to national presidential nominating conventions and members of state and county central committees, designated by law to run their parties.

Numerous local bond issues and tax levies also are at stake.

A total of 60 bond issues approximating $150 million are up with a $44.8 million issue for Toledo schools the largest.

At least 166 school operating levies are due for decision with this election marking the first time they can be approved on a continuing basis.

Brown attributed the rising interest in the primary to a series of factors topped by a surge of new registrations in the final few days before the March 27 deadline in the 51 counties requiring registration.

Forty-one counties require county wide registration by voters and 10 have partial registration. In the balance of the 88 counties, voters must be aged 21 by the Nov. 5 general election date, a resident of Ohio for one year and of the voting precinct for 40 days.

The secretary of state estimated that registrations exceeded 3.5 million this year, compared with .2 million plus in 1964.

Since the 1964 election, Brown figures that 617,000 Ohioans have turned 21, including 150,000 this year. He expects 264,000 of the total reaching maturity to vote this time.

Brown also has cooperated with the Defense Department in facilitating voting by Ohioans in military service throughout the world by absentee ballot.

Topless Gal Seeks Office At Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A topless dancer as president of the Stanford University student body?

The lady is a candidate in the student body election May 7-8. And you know students.

The university says Victoria Bowles—stage name Vicky Drake—is no longer a student. But it may be that she's still eligible.

Posters featuring a blown-up photo of a discreetly posed nude female have appeared on campus plugging Vicky for president of Associated Students of Stanford University.

Miss Drake let it be known she has been performing topless at a nightclub in nearby Sunnyvale.

Her qualifications were described as 38-22-36. And the 22-year-old "coed" said she intends to run.

"I am proposing nothing useful," she said. "Nothing more than a little distraction for a lot of book-weary students."

Student Elections Commissioner Craig Brown said students not currently enrolled can run for election if they were students during the preceding quarter and plan to attend during their term of office.

Registrar Harvey Hall said Vicky was enrolled last quarter and is eligible to attend again if she wants to.

The student legislature has the authority to determine whether she is eligible to run.

FACE $1,088 MILLION TAX CLAIM—A staggering $1,088 million tax claim has been filed against Darren and Eloise Erlin in Fairfax, Calif., by the Internal Revenue Service. The claim was assessed after narcotics agents said they found 337 pounds of marijuana in the Erlins' home. A 1937 federal law provides a $100-per-ounce tax assessment on marijuana unless the owner has a tax stamp.

Garden Gossip and Helpful Hints

By MRS. E. P. HANSON
'The Lady by the Lake'

By MRS. JAMES E. IRWIN
for MRS. E. P. HANSON

A ride around Ashville will certainly reward you with the sites of many beautiful flowering trees and shrubs. Dr. R. S. Hosler has several on the lawn of his office and home.

The William Fischer's have a beautiful crabapple tree on East Main St. It was at its peak of beauty last week with millions of pink blossoms. It seems in every direction you see Crabapple, Redbud and Magnolia. Ethel Siegle on Long St. has my favorite species of Magnolia. The Magnolia Nigra is a real dark pink.

Anyone visiting the Ed Irwin Insurance Office at the rear of 277 E. Main St., Ashville, will envy him and the Stanley Bowers for their spacious green lawns lined with evergreens. It is a wonder they don't have paths to the hill in the rear of both homes which is a favorite sledding spot for neighborhood children in the winter.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Skies were mostly sunny over Ohio Wednesday and high temperatures ranged from 56 at Cleveland to 78 in the Cincinnati area. With clear skies and dry air, temperatures dropped into the 30s over much of the state overnight.

Lows tonight will be a bit higher as the high pressure area responsible for the cold air shifts eastward. Lows tonight are forecast in the upper 30s northeast to the 40s and low 50s southwest.

Some increase in cloudiness is likely Friday as a low pressure trough approaches and brings the chance of widely scattered thundershowers. Temperatures Friday are expected to continue on the mild side.

FORECASTS

OHIO—Fair and a little warmer tonight, low in upper 30s northeast to 40s and low 50s southwest. Partly cloudy and warm Friday with widely scattered thundershowers.

NORTHWEST OHIO—Fair, a little warmer tonight, low in 40s. Partly cloudy and warmer Friday with a chance of afternoon showers.

SOUTHWEST OHIO—Fair and warmer tonight, low in 40s and low 50s. Partly cloudy and warmer Friday with chance of afternoon showers.

Daytonian Held In Bank Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A 46-year-old Dayton man is being held here in lieu of $50,000 bond. He was arrested Wednesday on a bank robbery charge.

The FBI filed the charge against Denver Wells earlier Wednesday in the $30,000 robbery of Huber Heights branch of the First National Bank on April 15.

Irwin's hobbies. He planted a row of Redbud and Lilac on the edge of the hill at the rear of where Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hoffman now live and it is indescribable.

I passed the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lon Cromley as they were having their new gas grill installed. It was a Christmas gift from his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Cromley. It is wonderful for the outdoor living room.

Dr. Lon and Judy live in the home formerly owned by Mrs. Bea Schiff. The home is beautiful in its spacious setting and provides a play area for their two small children. Both Cromley homes have an abundance of spring beauty.

Mrs. Georgia Hott of Cromley St., has rearranged her lawn to provide an open area of grass edged with a kidney shaped flower bed with a succession of flowers from now until frost. Mr. and Mrs. William Haddock live in Mrs. Hott's Apartment, with their two small children. It was evident that Mrs. Hott was thinking of the children's needs too, when she provided them with a fenced play area, where they can appreciate the beauty of nature with the flowering crabapple, rabbit hutch and the singing Purple Martins.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoover of Little Walnut have a new Purple Martin house this year. The addition is in the shape of O-H-I-O.

The annual spring flower show of the Pickaway County Garden Club will prove "Time Brings Many Changes" on June 10th at the Grange and 4-H Building.

The Solatqua Garden Club will have their annual Flower Show and Breakfast on June 7th at the Scioto Chapel EUB Parish House at Robtown. A program in keeping with the theme of the show — "Musical Fashions in Flowers" will follow the breakfast.

On April 23, and 24, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Kenneth Hannan and I attended the Fortieth Annual Meeting of the Garden Club of Ohio, Inc. at the Sheraton-Dayton Hotel. Dayton is recognized as one of America's most beautiful cities. It takes great pride in promoting the awareness of Nature. Aullwood Center and Aullwood Children's Farm are located here. beauty and value of the world around them.

The need to save a beautiful wooded area from the bulldozer prompted the action of Mrs. Daniel Mahoney Jr. It was through her efforts the land was donated to the Cox Arboretum Foundation. This is an outdoor museum for teaching responsible conservation techniques.

Mr. Fred Morr of the Department of Natural Resources was a guest at the Banquet on Tuesday and reported there is now law enforcement regarding stream littering. He also announced that April 26, is proclaimed Arbor Day, and that there are trees available for every 5th Grade in the State of Ohio to plant a Buckeye Tree.

This reminded me of the conversation I had with Mrs. Ben Duvall of Route 1, Ashville. She was hunting Buckeyes to decorate the tables for the 19th Anniversary Luncheon of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club. She found enough, but the scarcity of Buckeyes prompted us to say that planting Buckeye Trees would be a good project for someone.

New Champion At Swallowing Of Goldfish

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Remember when collegians were making news by swallowing goldfish instead of holding demonstrations?

Well, some are still gulping goldfish.

Dan Cavuto of Philadelphia staggered off with top honors Wednesday in the annual goldfish swallowing contest at St. Joseph's College by downing 269 wigglers.

The 240-pound champion and runnerup Bill Shuda, also of Philadelphia, twice wiped out the contest committee's supply of fish. Emergency purchases were made at several pet shops. Shuda failed on fish No. 200—because of a contest rule that No. 200 must be chewed before swallowing.

Ohio Supreme Court Upholds Right-of-Way

Traffic Case In Warren Causes Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court held in a 5-2 decision Wednesday that the driver of a motor vehicle on a through street has an absolute right of way over a vehicle on an intersecting stop street.

The ruling reversed and returned to Warren Municipal Court for further proceedings a decision favoring Annabelle M. Russomano in a damage suit by Mary A. Timmons following a traffic accident April 15, 1965. Mary Timmons, who lives three houses east of Eastland Avenue, was traveling east on East Market Street in the curb lane. Her right turn blinker was on as she crossed Eastland on which Annabelle Russomano was headed north. She had obeyed a stop sign but, observing the turn blinker on the approaching car, entered the intersection in the belief that Mary Timmons would turn right. Their cars collided.

In remanding the case, the Supreme Court said that a "driver on a through street, intending to turn into a private driveway a short distance beyond the intersecting stop street, does not lose or forfeit his right of way by activating the right turn signal lights on his vehicle before reaching the intersecting stop street."

"In this case, when defendant (Russomano) assumed that plaintiff (Timmons) intended to turn right at the Eastland Avenue intersection, defendant assumed too much and attempted to enter Market Street too soon."

Lausche Jabs At Gilligan In Speeches

Says His Record Speaks for Self On Economizing

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Jabbing at opponent John Gilligan and stressing his own voting record, U.S. Sen. Frank Lausche addressed groups Wednesday here and at Troy.

The Ohio Democrat said here people can judge him (Lausche) by his voting record and that when he disagrees with the Democratic administration, it is an attempt to cut down on extravagant spending.

"I voted for the poverty bill at $2 billion, rejected it at $5 billion," Lausche said.

"That is because every vote I cast is with the thought, is there a reasonable relationship between the taxes this will engender and the money available to pay for it?" he said.

Lausche also said, "I have never sold nor ever will sell my soul for votes."

In lashing out at party-backed Gilligan, Lausche accused him of seeking publicity with his recent "interference" in racial affairs in the Cincinnati area.

The incumbent senator also showed newsmen here a copy of a 1964 Xavier University newspaper which quoted Gilligan as saying, "If a politician doesn't throw dead cats, he doesn't get elected . . . I overstate everything."

At Troy, Lausche emphasized that "all indications were encouraging" in his fight for re-nomination against Gilligan.

In Washington, Lausche's office released a statement saying comments he previously made concerning labor support for Gilligan were based on articles in newspapers in Ohio saying that Gilligan was getting financial backing from labor and union leaders.

Denmark Has Boom In Pornographic Work

By OLE DICH
Associated Press Writer
COPENHAGEN (AP)—Order up some pornography in Denmark and get trading stamps thrown in.

"Business is business," said one Danish publisher of pornographic material that leaves little to the imagination. "We give trading stamps to our mail order customers."

Pornography is now a $50 million-a-year business in Denmark and it is expected to zoom even higher in June when a law goes into effect easing what once were strict regulations on written pornography.

The porno-producers are aiming for expansion in the export market. Their products already are being printed in many languages.

The man who gives trading stamps has 15,000 mail order customers.

Ninety per cent of these customers are from Germany and 99 per cent of them all are male customers," he said.

He supplies customers with a catalogue from which they can choose a wide variety of magazines, photographs, 8mm movies in black and white or color, slides and books. He also turns out an international circular in which his customers can advertise their secret desires. Women advertise free and the average response is 400 letters per ad.

"If we can sell it, it must be because there is a market for it," said another porno-producer.

Profits in the business are handsome. A magazine that costs the equivalent of 13 cents to produce brings a return of 15 times that much.

Denmark's photographic pornography leaves little to the imagination and garishly outtrials the stuff peddled by back street vendors of former times.

Production is already in full swing. It is not difficult to hire "actors" who are paid about $100 for making a sex film.

"I don't mind the work," said one 19-year-old male model. "It is easy money—and the work is not boring."

"It all started with Eve," said a 21-year-old Copenhagen girl who has starred in several porno movies. "We are just a little more technical." Mornings, she studies languages at Copenhagen University.

"Very few of the girls are dumb," said an old hand at sex movie producing. "Most of them do it for money and a few just for kicks, or because they are exhibitionists."

The home market is slowing down. But private film clubs have appeared. One Copenhagen club carries on the facade a flashing title in neon lights: "Star Movie Club." In order to conform with the law governing private clubs, each show is called a membership meeting—there are up to five a day. Membership dues are the equivalent of $5—with a $2 fee per meeting.

In return for this, the members solemnly are presented with such movies as "Unexpected Guests," "Teen-age Petting," and "Father and Daughter."

But patrons are not entirely pleased.

Said one member after a late night show: "I'd like to have more plot in the films." Another echoed: "Boy, it gets repetitious." A third: "You've got to leave your imagination at home—you don't need it here."

Danish police keep raiding the producers, the distributors and the film clubs. The next day they reopen.

In spite of the fact that the foreign market appears to be a wide open field, Danes appear to be getting bored.

Said one producer: "I feel that we have reached the limit with the hard line. Pretty soon people will want to go back to the point where the seventh veil isn't dropped."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The first of the summer replacement programs, "The Dom De Luise Show" took over Jonathan Winters' spot on CBS Wednesday night.

De Luise may not always be completely successful, but he is a hard-working comedian. He was all over this comedy-variety hour, mugging, singing, dancing, and playing sketch characters that ranged from an escaped convict in the home of an eager spinster to a boor who lands uninvited at the home of an acquaintance.

The first show, while frantically busy, was not top drawer. It did have a couple of things going for it. In the first place it was taped in Miami. So the jokes were Florida-style—"Miami, the sun capital of the world—my son the doctor, my son the lawyer . . ."

Anyway, this kind of humor is a welcome change from Los Angeles smog jokes and New York hippie quips.

If slapstick is your dish, "The Dom De Luise Show" may provide a jolly frenetic hour every week for the next four months.

Earlier, on ABC, Leslie Uggams, once of the Mitch Miller show and more recently the star of Broadway's "Hallelujah, Baby" appeared in her first television special. It was a variety hour and in contrast to the De Luise show, consisted almost entirely of musical numbers performed in wildly colorful psychedelic settings.

Miss Uggams, a very attractive young woman with an interesting singing style, demonstrated her way with material that ranged from "Anything Goes" to "My Man."

She had some help from a chorus, and was given an assist by Robert Morse and Noel Harrison, neither of whom had anything particularly interesting to contribute.

The motion picture Oscar awards show on April 8 topped the most recent Nielsen ratings list, with an audience estimated at almost 20 million homes. Second in popularity was "The Andy Griffith Show," followed by the cartoon show, "Charlie Brown's All-Stars," a rerun.

Post Grad Study Report Given to Local Kiwanians

A report of a study of the last four graduating classes of Circleville High School, financed by a $100 grant from Circleville Kiwanis Club, was made this week at Kiwanis meeting.

David Gillespie and Richard Fisher, CHS guidance counselors, explained the results of the study.

They pointed out that most students after graduation do what their high school curriculum prepared them to do.

Students who took college prep courses are presently or have attended college, the study indicated. Those who took general courses are now working. Students who ranked high are in technical, managerial and professional vocations.

The next highest group is in clerical and sales work and the third ranking group in service occupations.

The speakers noted students tend to overemphasize the need for money in going on to higher education. The financial help available is based on need. If a student has the preparatory courses and grades necessary to be accepted by a university, the money is available, often from the universities.

State Highway 25 Years Old Partially Opened

TULAROSA, N.M. (AP) — A New Mexico state highway built during World War II will be opened for limited civilian traffic for the first time this week-end.

Military officials at White Sands Missile Range said New Mexico 52 across the southern New Mexico missile range will be opened to escort convoys of civilian vehicles at specific times in the future.

No weapons or cameras will be permitted and all vehicles must have spare tire, jack and ample gasoline and water for the desert trip.

New Mexico 52, maintained by the military, was built for military purposes south of Trinity Site, where the world's first atomic bomb was detonated in 1945.

Viet Reds Use Something New: 'Seduce and Destroy'

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — That beautiful Vietnamese girl, her silken black hair swirling about her fragile body as she bathes in the stream, can be an angel of death.

Viet Cong terrorists around this big Marine base are now using "seduce and destroy" squads of girls, in attempts to entice Leathernecks to their deaths.

Marine sources said three Marines were missing and one was killed by the female assassination teams in three months.

A captured Viet Cong confirmed that attractive girls were being recruited and trained in English and intelligence work for the assassination teams.

In one recent incident, three Marines on patrol near their camp spotted three girls swimming nude in a stream. A few minutes later, one Marine lay dead, face down in the water. The other two are still missing.

"It is considered probable that the females were used as lures," the sources said.

The first inkling of the death-dealing decoys came in January when Marine counterintel-

A card of appreciation was read from the American Red Cross and the group voted to start the meetings at 8:30 p.m. beginning with the next meeting. It was announced that Pomona Grange will meet the first Friday evening in May at the 4-H and Grange Building at the fairgrounds and all members were urged to attend. The group also voted to make their yearly contribution to the School Board for the use of the school building.

Paul Dunkle, county youth chairman, was present for the evening and gave an interesting talk on the County Youth activities.

The program under the direction of Mrs. Paul Dawson was entitled "Youth Of Today." Jimmy Beathard opened the program with "What Grange Means to Me" and all present answered roll call by telling something that happened to them in school. Harold Furniss read, "Unlocked Memories" and county agent, George Hamrick, was present and gave a very interesting and educational talk on youth.

Paul Dunkle showed slides on the different activities of the Pickaway County Youth Group and explained the many things they have participated in in the past several years.

At the close of the program lovely refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Bidwell. Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Smith and Mrs. Ernestine Dudson.

ligence units uncovered what they called a "Viet Cong suicide platoon, composed of approximately 30 females." The girls were already operating near this sprawling Marine complex.

The girls, many believed to be fresh-faced teen-agers like many Marines, work in the time-honored tradition: strike up a conversation, get the Marine talking about himself, make an appointment for a quiet rendezvous, then arrange the kill.

Marine sources are concerned enough to warn the lower ranked men. The 8 p.m. curfew in the city of Da Nang, is strict.

Much of the city is completely off limits to the Leathernecks. Houses of prostitution, vermin-infested, tin-roofed shacks, stand less than 100 yards from the main gates of some camps. Officials are not too concerned with these. They cannot be eradicated but can be better patrolled when nearby.

They are concerned, however, with the houses located deep in the twisting, dark alleys and fragile-looking maidens bathing in the leaf-ringed streams near here. They may bestow the kisses of death.

Easy Dope Buys

BOSTON (AP) — "Any teenager, if he wants to get turned on, can buy marijuana today in Boston, on Charles Street, in the South End, almost anywhere," a Massachusetts legislative commission on drugs has been told.

The testimony was given by a 20-year-old Boston resident whose identity was not disclosed. He said he started using marijuana at 16 and progressed to LSD before he was arrested for selling marijuana.

Approximately five times a year, lobsters and crabs must crack and discard their shell-like covering, says Bill Gray of the Miami Seaquarium. They do it to free fleshy claws which can be as much as four times larger than the joints of the outer shell through which they must pass.

Wickerham Hurls Circleville '9' To 1-0 SCO Win

Circleville High School baseball team edged Greenfield, 1-0, Wednesday to stay in contention in the South Central Ohio League baseball title race.

Nick Wickerham, the southpaw on the CHS pitching staff, handcuffed the Greenfield nine on three hits. Wickerham had good control, walking two and fanning eight.

The only run of the game came in the top half of the second inning when Craig Lambert led off with a walk.

Jeff Steele doubled, advancing Lambert to third who then scored on Cassill's infield ground out.

STEELE was two for three at the plate for the Tigers, hitting a single in addition to his three bag blow.

Billy Thomas also cracked two hits, including a double, off Paul Howland, the Greenfield hurler. Howland, a freshman, walked three, fanned 11 and allowed only the four hits by Steele and Thomas.

Both team left six runners stranded on base.

The win evens Circleville's record at three and three in the league. It was Greenfield's second league loss.

Tonight the Tigers host Washington C.H. in a Central District Class AA tournament game. Friday they host Miami Trace.

Jim Pribble Paces Teays Valley Golfers

Teays Valley golfers downed Unioto High School, 8-3, Wednesday on the Upper Lansdowne golf links.

Jim Pribble was the medalist for the match, fashioning a 41 over the par 36 layout and gaining two points for the Vikings.

The performance won Pribble the number one slot on the Viking team for Friday's match with Grove City at the Grove City Country Club.

Mark Coon also gained two points for Teays Valley. He carded a 43 in his number one spot. Jay Bastian, the number three man in yesterday's match shot a 49 and had one point.

A PAIR of reserves, Kelly Leatherwood and Ed Combs, moved up to the varsity for the match and turned in solid performances according to golf coach Howard Weaver.

Leatherwood carded a 45 and two points. Combs had a 47 and a disastrous triple bogey in the ninth hole kept him from gaining any points. His playing opponent, Brian Conaway, shot a 46 and tied for low honors for the visitors.

Other scores for the Sherman golfers were Bill Weiler, 47; Andy Amos, 46; Bob Pope, 49; Danny Kysor, 48; Brian Conaway, 46.

98 Open Champions Golf Tourney

HOUSTON (AP)—South African Gary Player and long-ball hitting Jack Nicklaus were mild favorites today as 94 pros and four amateurs began the first round of the $100,000 Champions Invitational Golf Tournament.

Others given good chances of grabbing the $20,000 top money were defending champion Frank Beard and Tom Weiskopf, who leads the 1968 money winners with $77,677.

But nine of the top 10 current money winners will be in competition in the 72-hole tournament over the 7,166-yard par 36-35-71 Cypress Creek layout.

All four of the major champions will be in the field including Bob Goalby (Masters), Nicklaus (U.S. Open), Roberto De Vincenzo (British Open) and Don January (PGA).

Among the top names missing from this year's tournament are Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Ben Hogan, Billy Casper and Gay Brewer.

NHL Division Playoff Deadlocks

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota had just shelved St. Louis 5-1 Wednesday night to deadlock the National Hockey League West Division best-of-7 final playoff series at three games each. But Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman had a twinkle in his eye and a wry smile on his lips.

"We lost only one of our last 18 games at home before the playoffs," Bowman said and winked at newsmen. "Let's just hope we keep it up."

The reason Bowman was so chipper following defeat was the fact that the Blues and North Stars return to St. Louis for the final and deciding game of the series Friday night. And in playoff hockey, both Bowman and Minnesota's Wren Blair agree, the home ice is half the battle.

Friday's winner goes against the Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup championship series opening Sunday afternoon.

Viking '9' Loses To Wehrle, 5-1

Teays Valley remained winless, losing to Bishop Wehrle, 5-1, Wednesday in a non League baseball game.

Gary Rife and Tom Pickering were the Viking pitchers. They allowed six hits which the Wehrle nine parlayed into five runs.

The winners scored twice in the fourth inning and three times in the fifth.

Teays Valley's only counter came in the top of the second frame.

Hollingsworth Named

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kent Hollingsworth, editor of Bloodhorse Magazine, was elected president of the National Turf Writers Association Wednesday.

WESTFALL BASEBALL TEAM — Westfall's baseball team, once beaten and once tied, is leading the Scioto Valley Conference race again this year. Members of the team and coaches pose in front of one of the new dugouts constructed by the Westfall Boosters, providing the Mustangs with one of the finest lighted high school diamond facilities in central Ohio.

Westfall Defeats Logan Elm, 6-3

Westfall defeated Logan Elm, 6-3, Wednesday in a central district class AA tournament game played on the Mustang diamond.

Westfall cracked nine hits off Danny Fausnaugh, the sophomore pitcher for the Braves and took advantage of four Logan Elm errors in the scoring.

Gene Carfrey scattered five hits, fanned 11 in his route going performance. He walked six. It was his second tournament victory.

Westfall will now play

Olentangy 4 p.m. Tuesday in a tournament game at Chillicothe.

BOTH Westfall and Logan Elm scored single runs in the first inning.

The Mustangs exploded for five in the sixth frame while the Braves tallied two in the bottom half of the inning.

Logan Elms' run in the first inning came when Jim Orders walked and then scored on a throwing error to second base.

The Mustangs tallied in the first when Furniss reached first base on an error, stole second and then crossed the plate on Andy Hamman's sacrifice.

In the sixth Steve Sykes singled for Logan Elm. Larry Stant walked and both runners scored on an error when Danny Fausnaugh tagged a ball into left field.

Westfall banged seven hits in the sixth. Hamman and Tony Lightie led off with singles and both scored on a double by Bill Blair, Ed Cornwell doubled and Blair held at third.

THEY both scored on Rick Redman's single. Then Carfrey and Furniss banged back to back singles moving Redman across the plate for the final run.

Fausnaugh fanned six and didn't allow any walks. Friday Logan Elm hosts Unioto in a Scioto Valley Conference game.

McDowell Fireballs Way To 3-1 Win over Oakland

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Suddenly, the flame was back. Sam McDowell's fastball and his pace against the Oakland Athletics convinced some people he was going to a fire. McDowell struck out 16 batters—two short of the nine-inning major league record—and pitched Cleveland to a 3-1 victory over the Athletics Wednesday night.

Jack Adams Dies; Helped Form NHL

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Adams, whose fiery temper and stark dedication as a player, coach and general manager helped mold the National Hockey League, died Wednesday at the age of 73.

Adams suffered a fatal heart attack at his Detroit office where he had run the Central Professional Hockey League for five years.

Adams, who helped found the league in 1963, served as its president with the same quicksilver temper and loving dedication which marked his 44-year NHL career, including 35 as coach and general manager of the Detroit Red Wings.

Adams discovered Wings' superstar Gordie Howe and was one of the few men to have his name inscribed on the Stanley Cup as a player, coach and general manager.

"It's a real sad day for hockey," said Clarence Campbell, NHL president. "He was a very close personal friend of mine." Howe, signed by Adams at the age of 16 in 1946, said "I felt sick when I heard the news about Jack Adams' death. Mr. Adams was like a father to me."

Adams, coach and general manager of the Wings from 1927 to 1962, when he retired, built Detroit's greatest teams around Howe and the Wings famed "Production Line" of the early 1950s. On the line with Howe were Sid Abel, current manager-coach of the Wings, and Ted Lindsay.

The Wings won 12 NHL titles, including a record seven in a row during Howe's heyday from 1949 to 1955, and seven Stanley Cups.

Adams is survived by his widow, Helen. They have no children. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in Detroit.

Tennis Tournaments Face New Trouble

LONDON (AP) — The first signs of a rift between professional and amateur tennis threatened today to halt the progress of open tournaments.

American promoter George MacCall was reported planning to pull his 10 stars out of the Kent Championships at Beckenham—one of the open tournaments scheduled to precede Wimbledon.

He said the prize money offered was not big enough and started planning a rival tournament of his own at Eastbourne.

more pitches—and takes a lot longer doing it. "Gentlemen," he marveled afterwards, "you have just seen the eighth wonder of the world. Only 119 pitches in two hours, 11 minutes. I never thought I'd see the day."

In other American League action Wednesday night, Tommy John struck out 12 and pitched Chicago to a 4-1 victory over Washington, California downed Boston 5-3, Detroit shaded Minnesota 3-2 and Baltimore belted New York 6-1.

McDowell, who has had arm trouble in the past, had no trouble with the Athletics, who managed just three hits. He retired 20 men in a row after yielding an unearned run in the third inning.

Jim "Blue Moon" Odom was doing a pretty fair job of pitching for the A's. He retired the first 15 Cleveland batters but Chico Salmon's sixth inning single broke that spell and McDowell's single drove in the Indians' first run.

Tony Horton and Duke Sims singled in the seventh and Horton scored the tie-breaking run on a passed ball. Then Salmon's second hit brought Sims in.

The White Sox won their third game and John captured his second with a strong effort against the Senators. He shut Washington out on three hits over the first eight innings before yielding a run with two out in the ninth.

Plum Goes to Los Angeles In Multiple-Player Trade

DETROIT (AP) — "Four for one is pretty hard to believe," said Milt Plum, Detroit's on-a-gain, off-again, sometimes quarterback who became Los Angeles Rams' property Wednesday.

That was his assessment of the deal that sent him, halfback Tommy Watkins, flanker Pat

Thorpe Qualified For Golf Tour

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — George Thorpe of Cleveland, Ohio was qualified Wednesday for the Professional Golfers Association tournament tour.

Thorpe finished second in the 144-hole PGA approved tournament player training school competition. Thorpe's total score was 574, five strokes behind the winner, Bob Dickson of Tulsa, Okla. Another Ohioan, Robert Little Jr. of Athens, failed to qualify for the tour. The top 15 finishers were selected.

Agee Ends Slump With Base Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommie Agee, the New York Mets' swift center fielder, has missed setting a club record by one swing of the bat. He couldn't be happier. Agee broke an 0-for-34 slump with a bouncing single to center in the fourth inning of Wednesday night's 7-2, 11-inning loss to Philadelphia.

Ohio's Cage Tournaments Top $1 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Total receipts from Ohio's sectional-district, regional and state high school basketball tournaments went over the million dollar mark in 1968 for the first time in history.

A financial report in the May issue of the magazine "Ohio High School Athlete" shows receipts from the postseason tournaments totaled $1,118,318. The Athlete is published by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The $1.1 million figure represents an increase of $144,273 over total receipts in 1967 despite a slight decline in attendance.

Some 1,036,707 fans watched their favorite high schools in tournament action compared to 1,061,877 a year ago, the all-time mark.

The biggest drop in attendance came in the northeast sectional-district meets which drew 242,347 compared to 293,092 in 1967.

Total receipts this year from sectional - district tournaments reached $866,374, an increase of $145,407 over last year.

Receipts from regional meets at Kent, Toledo, Bowling Green, Columbus, Cincinnati, Canton, Athens and Troy totaled $141,543, down $2853 from 1967.

Money collected from ticket sales television and radio and programs at the state high school classic in Columbus totaled $110,401, reflecting a slight boost of $1,719 from the previous season.

The state association, which operates chiefly on basketball revenues, realized more than one-quarter million dollars from the tournaments.

Decreases were noted in total attendance at both regional and state meets. Some 90,816 watched regional play, a drop of 7,860 from 1967 while 54,095 filled St. John Arena for the two-day state tourney, a decrease of only 1,275 from a year ago despite adverse weather conditions.

ABA Title Tilt Set Saturday

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The battle for the first championship of the American Basketball Association moved back to Pittsburgh today for the playoff game Saturday night.

The Pittsburgh Pipers tied the best-of-7 series at 3-3 Wednesday night by whipping New Orleans 112-108 after the Bucs blew a 13-point halftime lead.

The Pipers made good on seven straight foul shots in the final two minutes for their victory margin.

Connie Hawkins, the Most Valuable Player in the ABA, contributed 41 points to the Pipers cause and, despite an injured leg, was the only one on either team to play the entire game.

The Bucs lost the game in the third quarter when the Pipers began to move and tied the score at 99-93.

ABC Wraps Up 75-Day Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP) — The American Bowling Congress wrapped up its 75-day tournament here Wednesday by crowning winners in the "minor events" categories.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., and Vince Mazzanti of Philadelphia won all-events titles in the classic and regular divisions respectively.

New Techniques for Viet Civilians

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — In Vietnam you just don't see a couple of hundred husky men out in the middle of nowhere.

But there they were, little white-shirted peasant figures spread out across the dry paddifields, all moving intently in the same direction, hastening their steps as the American helicopter swept low.

In his command helicopter, Col. Hank Emerson was exuberant. True, the motley band appeared unarmed but in the delta where Viet Cong armies are hidden in myriad bamboo stands that meant nothing.

"They damn well ought to be in somebody's army," snapped the 42-year-old Vietnam veteran from Milford, Pa., raising bedlam on the command radio channels as he yelled for troops and helicopters.

Gunships quickly flashed in, riding herd like sheepdogs and firing short bursts on the flanks of the men now scurrying for treelines. Sweating GIs began to drop ahead and behind, under orders not to shoot unless fired upon.

By midmorning 115 "detainees" were squatting in the dust outside the barbed wire of a 9th Division camp in the steaming delta.

The detainees gave mainly the same tale. They were fleeing from some kind of expected attack. The very cohesiveness of their replies raised hopes that perhaps the division had bagged a Viet Cong replacement company on the move—an unheard-of feat.

Disappointment was quick.

Within 24 hours interrogation teams had identified seven of the men as Viet Cong soldiers and 29 as civilian offenders, men with improper papers or dodging the draft or fleeing civil charges. But the remaining 77 were classified as just ordinary civilians, and the chief of their district showed up to vouch for them.

A year ago the 77 men would simply have been turned loose to make their way home as best they could, doubtless embittered by their experience. Nowadays, the Army is more experienced in the complications of Vietnam's twisted war.

Before turning the men loose, Brig. Gen. William Knowlton, the soft-spoken assistant commander of the 9th Division, called in a special South Vietnamese psychological warfare team from nearby My Tho.

Knowlton, 47, of West Springfield, N.H., feels desperately the need to reach South Vietnam's impassive peasantry. That night the psy-war team of five soldier actors and two young girls put on a spirited show of songs and dances. Most popular was a skit in which the country bumpkin outwitted the city slicker Viet Cong for the hand of the maiden.

The show was ostensibly directed solely at the 77 civilians. It was held within sight, however, of the seven bonafide Viet Cong and the 29 assorted civil offenders.

Homers Spark IL Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The home run isn't always the equalizer, but you couldn't prove that today to a number of International League pitchers.

Ten homers were hit in five games Wednesday night, and nearly all had an effect on the outcome.

Louisville's Colonels lengthened their league lead to three games by beating the Rochester Red Wings 3-1 while the Syracuse Chiefs were bowing to Columbus 4-3. Toledo edged Jacksonville 4-3 and Richmond and Buffalo split a twin bill, the Bisons winning 4-3 and the Braves by 6-3.

Although it came in the second inning of a game that was scoreless at the time, Chris Cannizzaro's homer proved the difference for Columbus. The Jets' Dave Roberts gave up six hits and struck out 11 before he was relieved in the Syracuse eighth.

Home runs accounted for all four runs as Toledo overcame a 3-0 deficit to beat Jacksonville. Bob Christian hit a two-run shot in the seventh and Ike Brown hit another two-run drive in the eighth.

U.S. Opens Quest For Davis Cup

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The United States opens its 1968 quest of the Davis Cup Friday in matches against the British Carribean.

Richmond native Arthur Ashe, No. 2-ranked U.S. amateur; Clark Graebner, No. 4 of New York; Stan Smith, No. 7, of Pasadena, Calif., and Bob Lutz, No. 10, of Los Angeles, make up the team representing this country in the first round American zone competition at Byrd Park.

The next day the 77 were placed on trucks and driven home, each given a small package with a toothbrush and soap and a small sum of money. And so within 48 hours the men were back home. Nobody was quite satisfied, but Knowlton felt that a plus had been gained instead of the minus that previously resulted from most such incidents—which are almost daily occurrences in Vietnam.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of husband, father, grandfather, Ethridge
Justice, who passed away six years ago today, May 2, 1962.
I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead. He is just away
With a cheery smile and a wave of hand
He has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very far it needs must be, since he lingers
there
And you — oh you, who the wildest return
Think of him faring on, as dear.
In the love of there as the love of here
Think of him still as the same.
I say
He is not dead — he is just away

CHS Senior Class Play

'Wizard of Oz' Play Will Steal Your Heart

By JEAN BACH

In an all too brief two hours Wednesday evening, it was just great to forget momentarily about the balance of payments, DeGaulle, the price of gold, the "umpteen" 1968 presidential candidates, taxes and the gas bill, and fly away into fantasy land with Dorothy in the "Wizard of Oz."

This very ambitious undertaking, which was two months in rehearsal, is the Circleville Senior Class play for 1968 and may I say, "bless em all."

Mrs. Martha Wiggins, director, has come through the mountains of papier mache', grease paint and costumes a little weary, but very proud of the accomplishments of these students.

The stage at the new senior high school is large and lends itself beautifully to the use of large groups of actors, but the hours spent in designing and building sets for this large area must have been monumental.

In this day of computers and machinery, it is most gratifying to see what can be done with a great desire to put the best before the audience and to give with their whole hearts a little of themselves.

Dorothy, played by Keitha Wagner, is her own sweet self; wholesome and unaffected, and the way Dorothy should be — blond, believing and beloved.

We have all loved the Cowardly Lion and Rick Compton does a fine job "cowarding" while looking for his courage.

Bruce Pontious as Scarecrow does an exceptionally fine job and his singing and dancing give the impression of a real pro.

Steve Nelson as Tin Man will win your heart in the search for his.

Sonnie Stone as Wicked Witch of the West gets my vote as "ghoul of the year."

Melissa Willoughby and Nancy Benzenberg play Sorceress of the North and Chuck Plum is the Wizard.

One thing about these presentations, all that is really desired is to please the audience. If we support, understand and appreciate the work and effort involved, that's all the thanks anyone ever wants. So try a flight, "Over the Rainbow" with Dorothy and the group on Friday or Saturday evening at the high school.

Working on the various

A combo composed of Patty Painter, Marian Brehmer and Steve Holbrook provides the music. Choreography is by Holly Bach and Nancy Benzenberg.

Man Faces 2nd Trial For Murder

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 43-year-old man who was sentenced to death in 1965 for the shotgun slaying of Gilbert Mathis, 62, will stand trial again next month for the same crime.

John Ray was judged insane after the conviction and sent to Lima State Hospital.

Presiding Criminal Court Judge Harry Jaffee Wednesday set June 10 as the trial date for Ray following a sanity hearing. Ray was convicted in 1965 of the 1964 killing of Mathis. The jury did not recommend mercy and Ray's execution was set for May 9, 1965.

After the trial defense lawyers learned that Ray had been an outpatient at Cleveland Psychiatric Clinic.

Court of Appeals Judge Charles W. White ordered a stay of execution, adjudging Ray insane and sending him to Lima State Hospital.

Stokes Pushes Bold Plans For Revitalizing Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes went on television Wednesday night to appeal to the community to commit itself to a massive $1.5 billion redevelopment program over the next 10 years.

Stokes announced the program — Cleveland Now — in special appearances on five Cleveland television stations.

He said the immediate aim of the program was a six-point, $177 million plan aimed primarily at the city's Negro areas.

In the next 18 months the program will be directed at employment, youth, health and welfare, neighborhood rehabilitation, economic revitalization and future planning, Stokes said.

Stokes said the business community will be asked to contribute $10 million in a 10-day campaign to be conducted by the Greater Cleveland Growth Association.

Group 66, an organization of young businessmen, will try to raise $1.25 million in contributions from private citizens, the mayor added.

He said most of the money — $143 million — will be sought from the federal money with a local commitment of $34 million making up the budget for the first 18-month program.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer devoted its whole front page today to the plan which it described as a bold program "for the rejuvenation of this city."

Stokes said the highest expenditure, $86 million, will be for neighborhood rehabilitation. Other expenditures include:

—Employment: Training and employing 11,000 full and part-time workers, with particular attention to hard core unemployed at a cost of nearly $19 million.

—Health and welfare: $1.25 million to establish 10 multi-service health centers and 10 child day care centers.

—Neighborhood rehabilitation which would provide 4,600 new and rehabilitated housing units for low and middle-income families.

—Economic revitalization: aimed at accelerating the six existing urban renewal projects.

Woman Rescued From Wardrobe

BRADFORD, England (AP) — A 72-year-old woman was rescued Wednesday from a wardrobe that fell on her four days before.

Bella Redfearn, who lives alone, said the wardrobe fell on her with its doors open last Saturday. She banged and shouted for help but none arrived until her nieces reported her missing. She was treated for shock and bruises.

Phone Strike Pact Readied

Workers Vote Slated Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tentative contract agreement providing an increase of 6.5 percent a year in wages and fringe benefits was announced today in the nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers.

The three-year contract, a pattern for all 600,000 Bell Telephone System Workers, totals 19.58 percent in higher wages and other benefits over the life of the contract.

It will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion, said President Joseph A. Beirne of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. Communications Workers of America.

Beirne said the strike, the first nationwide telephone walk-out in 21 years, could end early next week after ratification by the strikers.

Union and company negotiating teams in 17 cities worked through Wednesday night in hopes of ironing out final differences.

"We would like to wrap it up," said a spokesman for union President Joseph A. Beirne.

One hopeful note appeared when a Wednesday midnight deadline for nearly 10,000 Virginia telephone workers to join the strike was postponed on a day-to-day basis for up to three days.

Federal officials had privately expressed concern over the possible effects of a Virginia strike on crucial Defense Department telephone links at the Pentagon in suburban Arlington, Va.

7 Ohioans Are Recipients Of Carnegie Awards

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Seven Ohioans were on the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission's list for awards announced today.

Forrest E. Brock Sr., 42, South Vienna, will receive a bronze medal and $750 in cash. A truck driver, Brock is credited with saving an undetermined number of persons from an impending explosion in Washington Court House Jan. 20, 1966.

The commission citation said he risked his life to turn off a gas pump valve when a boy tossed a match while gas was being pumped into tanks, igniting fumes and starting a fire.

Firemen soon controlled the blaze, after Brock turned off the valve.

Ernest Thomas Zogaib, 39, Toledo, a railroad tower operator, will receive a bronze medal and $750. He was cited for saving Terry R. Northrop, 25, and attempting to save Johannes W. Northrop, 47, from burning at Waldbridge April 23, 1967.

A small airplane piloted by the elder Northrop crashed just after takeoff. Northrop and his son were trapped in the cabin. Zogaib arrived as flames broke out on the engine and wings and removed Terry from the plane but failed in efforts to save the father.

Terry A. Laughlin of Alliance will receive a bronze medal and $500. Terry, 15, a schoolgirl, helped save Malcolm P. Carr, 23, from drowning at Deerfield June 5, 1967. She swam 175 feet to Carr, and towed the unconscious man toward a bank where she got help from two other girls.

Richard Alva Beatty, 44, and Grover Curtis Bainter, 42, of Lancaster; Lester O. Spires, 57, and Harvey L. Seitz, 37, both of Ashville, will receive bronze medals and cash awards for their rescue of two Air Force officers at Ashville Feb. 1, 1967. The officers' plane crashed and was burning when the four men rescued them from the flames. One of the officers died later.

See North Carolina Vote Small

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Negro candidate in a three-way race for North Carolina's Democratic nomination for governor needs a heavy Negro vote and considerable white votes to survive Saturday's primary election.

Yet, the candidacy of Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a dentist and minister, has virtually assured a runoff even if he places last in the voting.

Neither of Hawkins' opponents, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Mel Broughton of Raleigh, is expected to get a majority of the votes and outright nomination.

On the Republican side, U.S. Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., opposes Jack Stickley, a Charlotte businessman, for the gubernatorial nomination.

There will be no presidential ballot for the North Carolina voter Saturday and the campaign for governor has aroused little interest. Surveys have reported numerous undecided or apathetic voters.

Gold Prices Go Higher In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold in Europe's bullion markets rose to new highs today despite indications from Washington that Congress is preparing action to reduce the U.S. foreign payments deficit.

In the London market, the price was fixed at $39.25, up five cents on Wednesday night's close. This was the highest level since the reopening of the London market April 1.

The rise has been steady for 10 days since Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin's warning of the danger of another financial crisis.

On the London foreign exchange market, the pound dropped 13 points at the opening, apparently on the news from Washington with its implications of tougher selling conditions for British exporters in the United States. The pound opened at $2.3963, down from $2.3975, then eased another point to $2.3962.

Dealers in the London gold market said turnover was very brisk but they believed much of the demand was coming from industrial users, especially American, rather than speculators.
